THE REPUBLICAN PARTY AT THE SOUTH. The New York Sun, which is more inclined to the Democratic than to the Republican party, says: "In every one of the Southern States the Republican party now have a complete political organization. The disposition of the negroes to vote almost unitedly with the Republicans, in connection with the disfranchisement of a large class of rebels, gives good ground for the belief that the Republican party will achieve a victory in most of the lately rebel States. Such a result would work one of the most singular political changes that has ever been known. Only a little more than six years ago the Republican party had not even obtained a foothold in the South, with the exception of the border States. In the Presidential election of 1860, there was not a Republican vote cast in the States of North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Florida, Mississippi, Louisiana, Arkansas and Texas. In Maryland, Lincoln had only 2,294 votes, against 90,148 for the other candidates. Delaware gave Lincoln 3,815 votes against 12,224 for his opponents. Kentucky gave 1364 for Lincoln and 144,852 against him. Missouri gave Lincoln 17,028 votes and 148,490 against him. Therefore, even in the border States, the Republicans were barely strong enough to stand alone as a party, while in the other Southern States they were too weak to get up an electoral ticket. Now, however, they may be called the dominant party. In two or three of the Southern States the negroes constitute a majority of the population, and consequently in the majority as voters.

In South Carolina the total white population in 1860 was 291,388, and the colored 412,320. In Mississippi the whites numbered 353,901, and the colored 437,404. In Georgia the whites numbered 591,588, and the colored 465,690. Taking the aggregate of the States which seceded, the white population cannot be enough larger than that of the colored to balance the loss which the ex-rebels will sustain in the coming election, on by reason of disfranchisement. The presumption is, therefore, that all the states which seceded—the States in which the Republicans could not even raise an electoral ticket in 1860—will be carried by the Republican party in the next elections."

The Sun claims a good deal more for the Republicans than they claim for themselves. We do not, at the first elections expect even a majority of the Southern members of Congress. If we elect even twenty from the South, the Republican preponderency in Congress will be amply secured against all possible loss at the North.

THE PRESIDENTIAL FIGURES. A writer in the New York Post recently made the following guess at the next House of Representatives, and the electoral college at the next Presidential election:

State.	Rep. Electors.	Dem. Electors.	Rep. Cong.	Dem. Cong.
Alabama,		8	2	4
Arkansas,		4	1	1
California,	5		3
Connecticut,		6	2	2
Delaware,		3		1
Florida,		3		1
Georgia,		9		4
Illinois,	16		9	5
Indiana,	13		7	4
Iowa,	8		6
Kansas,	3		1
Kentucky,		11		9
Louisiana,		7	1	4
Maine,	7		5
Maryland,		7	1	4
Massachusetts,	13		10
Michigan,	8		6
Minnesota,	4		2
Mississippi,		7		5
Missouri,	11		7	2
Nebraska,	3		1
Nevada,	1		1
New Hampshire,	5		2	1
New Jersey,	7		2	3
New York,	33		17	14
North Carolina,		10	2	6
Ohio,	21		15	6
Oregon,	3		1
Pennsylvania,	26		15	9
Rhode Island,	4		2
South Carolina,		8		6
Tennessee,	10		5	3
Texas,		6		4
Vermont,	5		3
Virginia,		10	2	6
West Virginia,	5		3
Wisconsin,	8		4	2
Total,	220	99	141	101

If New York be given to the democrats, the Republicans would still have in the electoral college one hundred and eighty-seven votes, to one hundred and thirty-two democrats. If New York and Pennsylvania were both given to the democrats, this would make the electoral college stand one hundred and sixty-one republicans to one hundred and fifty-eight democrats. If Connecticut, which is given to the democrats in the list, should go Republican, this would give the Republicans a clean majority, with the loss to them of New York and Pennsylvania. If the Republican should lose these states and New Jersey and gain Connecticut, they would still have a majority in the electoral college.

THE INDIAN TROUBLES. The New York Sun says: "The Indian war threatens to become a tedious, troublesome, expensive and useless undertaking. The military authorities seem to have entered upon it in a spirit neither very humane nor reasonable. It may be necessary to adopt the Indian style of warfare in fighting with Indians, but it can serve no good purpose to imitate their vices and barbarities. The recent order of Gen. Meagher, allowing his volunteer troops full liberty to plunder and keep the spoils, is not in consonance with that moderate policy by which alone any substantial advantage over the savages can be gained. A vindictive spirit will but add to the ferocity of the enemy, and engender increased bitterness towards the whites. It should not be forgotten that the Indians have good reason for assuming a hostile attitude towards the U. S. We have taken from them by unscrupulous swindled and wronged them, and upon every occasion manifested the most present disposition. The Indians could have kept their part of former agreements, if white men had not forced them to the evil paths of treachery. It is difficult for us to believe the savages believe in the honest intentions of the Government towards them, and the consequence is that they prefer the chances of war to the tricks and deceptions of unprincipled agents. The immense country over which the various warlike tribes can scatter, when they do not wish to fight, will render it impossible ever thoroughly to conquer them; and no matter how long the war lasts, the affair must be settled by treaty in the end. It would be infinitely better, however, and much more easy to settle it before the war than after, and it is to be hoped that some more reasonable method of dealing with the difficulty will be proposed, before the war proceeds.

Visitors from America are subjected to great annoyances, and to robbery and pillage by the Custom House officers at Queenstown, Ireland. Among those gentlemen so treated on a recent occasion was Mr. George Peabody, the well-known millionaire and eminent philanthropist. The Queen sent him her portrait some time ago as a mark of her esteem; but the police at Queenstown took away his fowling piece from him, and it is a wonder they did not bring him before the courts and compel him to find bail for his good behavior.

THEY CAN TAKE THEIR CHOICE. A "Conservative Union" meeting in Georgia has resolved that the reconstruction bill of Congress is infamous, and that it is better for the State to remain under military rule than to accept it. Very well, they can take their choice. The rest of the country would like to see them represented in Congress, but can get on very well without them. It is quite plain, however, that they will gain nothing by waiting. If they decline to accept the plan of Congress, Congress will not accept theirs.—[Providence Journal.

A New York jury has made Edwin R. Hunter pay $6,000 for a woman and child whom he suffocated. They lived in his house, and he wished them to leave. They did not go, and it would cost time and money to get them out. So Edwin stopped the chimney tight. The coal gas stopped the breathing of the woman and child, and very nearly did as much for several other persons. The undertaker took away the tenants, and the landlord got his house.

A correspondent says that at the yearly meeting of the Hicksite branch, of the Society of Friends, held in New York, the other day, the belles wore loves of bonnets, chignons, light robes of the most attractive textures, and fashionable jewelry, while the young men "Friends" appeared in the gayest attire ever beheld on Broadway. The garb of George Fox, however, was not wholly absent from the assemblage.

THE CATTLE DISEASE. The Secretary of State has received despatches from the United States Consul at Liverpool, informing him that the cattle disease has broken out again in that section with renewed violence, and in accordance therewith the Secretary of the Treasury has instructed Collectors of Customs at the chief ports to enforce stringently the law prohibiting the importation of cattle from Europe.

The American Artisan estimates that the accumulated expansion of the rails in a line of railroad 500 miles long would amount, at the highest summer temperature, to nearly one-fourth of a mile, as compared with the length of the same rails during the coldest weather of winter.

Up to the 28th of May, 187 whites and 313 blacks had registered in Vicksburg.

JEFF DAVIS. Gov. Pierpont of Virginia in answer to a request of Rev. Paul Bagley, to sign a petition for the pardon of Jeff Davis, wrote as follows:

COMMONWEALTH OF VIRGINIA,
Executive Department,
June 4, 1867.

I ask for the pardon of no man who will not ask for his own pardon God cannot pardon unless the transgressor first asks for his own pardon. Reason—Contrary to the established law of God.

F. H PIERPONT.

COLLECTING TAXES AT THE SOUTH.—There is not a very severe pressure for appointments as tax collectors in the unreconstructed portions of the South, as we judge from the adventure of one of them, as related in a recent Little Rock (Arkansas) letter:

In connection with the prosecutions of Union men—for it virtually amounts to this, and at least is a defiance of the Government—an interesting chapter might be written on the troubles experienced by assessors and collectors of the internal revenue. A good many blank movements requiring both extra courage and extra endowment of strategic ability has to be gone through with by these financial agents of Uncle Samuel. As an instance of many I will give one which happened but a few days since. A deputy collector arrived at Clarendon, on the White River, on a steamboat. The first place he went into, the following brief dialogue occurred:

"Are you a tax collector?" asked the proprietor of the place.

"I am, sir," blandly responded the worthy official.

"Do you see that?" in tones not quite so bland, continued the aforesaid proprietor, pulling out a revolver and pointing it at his head. "Now you git out of here—git up and git," and the man began to essay a general retrograde movement. "Faster, faster," and as he reached the door of the establishment, "about face and dig for that steamboat as straight and as fast as you can," insisted him in tones less benignant. Well, for fear he might not go to the steamboat, the aforesaid proprietor followed after him, and compelled him to double quick it before striking the gang-plank, much to the discomfiture of the tax man, but very much to the gratification and amusement of the crowd of lookers-on, not one of whom interfered on behalf of our government functionary. The discomfitted deputy returned and reported his reception to Captain Patton, tax collector. The Captain is an Arkansian by birth, served through the war in the Federal army, and is not a man to be trifled with.—The next boat or two found him at Clarendon. He walked into the same place, and quickly knew his man from the description. He introduced himself thus:

"You're hell I'm told; now that's my game. I'm the Internal Revenue Collector of this district. You drove one of my deputies out of here the other day, and now you've got a chance to try it on me."

"Ask your pardon; but I was drunk that day," guessed the captain.

"You'd rather pay your tax?"

"I'd rather pay the tax," was the mild yet ejaculatory response; and he did pay it.

FROM MEXICO. A special despatch to the Herald, dated Queretaro, May 26th says:

Gen. Miramon was shot on Sunday. Escobedo had issued an order that all officers hiding who did not surrender in twenty-four hours would be summarily shot when captured. Miramon did not give himself up, but was captured on Saturday night and shot early on Sunday morning in the public plaza, and shot in the same place as Maximilian.

Senator Patterson, the President's son-in-law, returned to-day from Tennessee, and reports the political campaign there as exceedingly bitter. He fears an outbreak. The delegation who are here from that State have been unable to see the President, to ask him to interfere with the militia. They wish him to direct him to direct Gen Thomas in to send regular troops to East Tennessee to disarm the militia.

There is authority for saying that nothing will be done just at present by the President toward restoring Gov. Wells and the Mobile officials. Delay is excused because of the absence of the legal opinion on such removals and the needed consideration of the matter before the Cabinet. The anti-Administration men put the delay on the ground that the President does not intend to do anything to bring Congress together in July.

The President will leave on Friday the 21st inst. for New York, and from there will go to Boston, to be present at the dedication of the Masonic Temple in that city. He will be accompanied by Washington Commandery No. 1 and Columbia No. 2 of the Knights Templar.

Here is an aggregate of $882,499, which has reverted to the government, upon the return and destruction of which an equal amount of circulation will be at the disposal of the Comptroller of the Currency, for distribution according to the terms and conditions prescribed in the national currency act, subject to the same rules as governed the distribution of the amount originally authorized by Congress. Quite a number of national banks have been organized to which the Comptroller has not yet given any circulation because the amount provided for, by law is already out, and there are many others that have received only part of the amount to which they would under other circumstances be entitled.—[Special to Boston Adv.

Dr. Schenck, the Lung Doctor

☞ The Proprietor of SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP, the inventor of SCHENCK'S RESPIROMETER, the only instrument that can to a certainty detect the slightest murmur of the respiratory organs.

This is of great importance to Dr. SCHENCK, to know the exact condition of the lungs, whether it is Tuberculous, Pulmonary, Bronchial, Pleuritic, or Dyspeptic Consumption, and whether it is both lungs or only one that are diseased.

It requires constant and long practice to become familiar with every sound or rattling of a diseased bronchial tube. Patients come to Dr. SCHENCK to get examined that have been examined by their family physician, who told them that their lungs were almost gone; when by a close examination with the Respirometer, it is often found that it is an affection of the bronchial tube; and by getting a healthy action of the liver and tone of the stomach, the sufferer is soon restored to health. Sometimes medicine that will stop a cough, is certain death to the patient. It looks up the liver, stops the circulation of the blood—hemorrhage flows, and, in fact, stopping the action of the very organ that caused the cough.

Dr. Schenck will be professionally in his rooms every week, 32 Broad street, New York, and 35 Hanover street, Boston from 9 A. M. until 3 P. M. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with the Respirometer, the charge is $5. His medicines are for sale by all druggists and dealers; also, a full supply at all times at his rooms. An Effectual Worm Medicine

BROWN'S VERMIFUGE COMFITS,

OR WORM LOZENGES. Much sickness, undoubtedly, with children and adults, attributed to other causes, is occasioned by worms. The "VERMIFUGE COMFITS," although effectual in destroying worms, can do no possible injury to the most delicate child.—This valuable combination has been successfully used by physicians, and found to be safe and sure in eradicating worms, so hurtful to children.

CHILDREN HAVING WORMS require immediate attention, as neglect of the trouble often causes prolonged sickness.

SYMPTOMS OF WORMS IN CHILDREN are often overlooked. Worms in the stomach and bowels cause irritation, which can be removed only by the use of a sure remedy. The combination of ingredients used in making Brown's "Vermifuge Comfits" is such as to give the best possible effect without fail.

London, June 10. The expedition to Africa in search of Dr. Livingstone has sailed from England.

Asher Messick, aged 60, residing about 2 miles from Harrisonburg, has, with no other assistance than the help afforded by his daughter and another lady, who assisted in planting his corn, plowed at least twenty acres of ground, sowed eleven bushels of oats and harrowed it in, planted one and a half bushels of corn, put a quarter of an acre in potatoes, made 100 rails, and put up about 200 panels of fence, besides attending to his other business, such as sheep-shearing, going to mill, to the blacksmith's shop, and to Harrisonburg to attend to his business in that city. We commend the example of this "old rebel", says the Rockingham (Va.) Register to some of our nice young men who lounge around the towns doing nothing, because they are not able to do hard work.

SINGULAR CASE. The Baltimore Commercial has the following:—

Within a few days past a case of somewhat novel character has been developed by some philanthropic ladies in Old Town. It seems that previous to the war a highly educated lady was residing in North Carolina, upon a very large plantation, surrounded by luxury, and living in true Southern style.—The results of the war reduced her to want; her many slaves were emancipated by the proclamation, and she was left helpless and alone. She finally reached this city several days since, in search of some old friends, in great destitution, and applied, to apply to the authorities of the Asylum. A hall bedroom, where she is now [illegible] and [illegible] on refusing [illegible] Dr. [illegible] Hospital [illegible] WEEK.

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY. Improvements and repairs are being made upon the track, and road bed of the Grand Trunk and the road is now in better order than it has been for a long time. The old and worn out rails are being replaced with new ones as fast as they can be obtained.—One half the product of the Portland Rolling Works, about 500 tons of rails per month, is taken for the Grand Trunk road—as the Argus says.

—At Mechanic Falls on Saturday last, as the Press says, Mr. Levi Donham and his daughter were thrown from their carriage, and the daughter received injuries which may prove of a serious nature. The horse ran into the village, and Mr. J. F. Rawson in attempting to stop him was knocked down and his arm and shoulder-blade broken. Being an old man it is feared he will not recover.

—The Gardiner Reporter reports that a child two and a half years old, daughter of Mrs. J. P. Wheeler of Pittston, was lost Wednesday. She was missed about eight o'clock in the morning, and was discovered at four o'clock in the afternoon playing with a young colt in a pasture over a mile from home. To get there she had passed over quagmires, stone-walls and thro' bushes.

THE PEARLY GATES.—Pure white teeth and a sweet breath, issuing like perfume from the rose, through a pair of lovely lips, are, as Shakspeare says, "an excellent thing in women." To keep the "pearly gates" of the mouth always spotless, and the breath always fragrant, it is only necessary to use the SOZODONT daily.—Advertisement. june 12 eod3t

WHY NOT LEARN OF AMERICANS.—Military critics in this country expressed their astonishment last Summer that in the conduct of the Prusso-Austrian campaign, neither Austrians nor Prussians made any use of those experiences of the American war, which might certainly, on some occasions, have served either of them an excellent turn. The Austrians for example, on the field of Sadowa, and especially on the retreat to Vienna after the close of that battle, might beyond question have embarrassed the Prussian operations and pursuit by throwing up such earthworks as, in the American war, were thrown up on all occasions, on large scale and small scale, by single soldiers, by companies or regiments, or by an entire army. It is the opinion of those who have studied that retreat most closely that a knowledge of the history of our war would have taught Benedek some lessons which might at least have made his defeat less disastrous. But there are many other things besides these which an European belligerent might learn to its advantage.

—N. Y. Times.

The New York correspondent of the Philadelphia Ledger says that influential members of the New York State Constitutional Convention express the conviction that with but little effort the word "male" as well as the word "white," can be stricken out of the existing constitution, Mr. Greeley and his friends being in favor of the change and the Democrats not particularly opposed to it.

It is noted as one of the political straws at the South that a proposition has been made to Gen. Scott of the Freedmen's Bureau to represent the Charleston district in Congress. This invitation has been given in good faith by influential men, because Scott has proved a fair, consistent and just executive officer.

The Republican State Executive Committee of Florida has issued a call for a Republican State Convention, to assemble at Tallahassee on the 11th day of July.

DR. SCHENCK'S
NEW OFFICE,
DR. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, has opened an office on second floor of No. 35 HANOVER STREET, Boston, where he will be professionally every WEDNESDAY, from 9 to 3. Every person complaining with Consumption or any disease leading to it, is invited to call on him. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer, the charge is five dollars.
Dr. Schenck can explain to patients very correctly the stage of their disease, and how to use his medicines, namely, his Pulmonic Syrup, Seaweed Tonic, and Mandrake Pills, without the use of the Respirometer; but by it he can tell exactly how far the lungs are gone, and what part also; whether it is Tuberculous, Pulmonary, Bronchial or Dyspeptic Consumption, or whether it is merely an ulcerated throat, and catarrh, or from Liver Complaint.
His medicines have full directions, so any one can take them without seeing him, but if they live near by, and are able to come, it is best to see him. All three of his medicines are required in nearly every case of lung disease. It is impossible to cure Consumption unless the stomach and liver are kept in good order, the bowels regulated, and an appetite for good food, with digestion to make good blood, being the things will make it well; then the chills and night sweats will stop, and the expectoration becomes free and easy.
He keeps a full supply of medicines at his rooms, which can be had at all times.
Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic, each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 the half dozen. Mandrake Pills, 25 cents per box.

SYMPTOMS, CAUSES AND REMEDY.
Symptoms of Dyspepsia.—A sense of fullness, tightness, and weight in the stomach, loss of appetite, flatulency, acidity, sour, offensive belching of wind, water-brash and vomiting, and a great deal of what a person calls an all-gone feeling at the pit of the stomach; frequently there is also a palpitation of the heart, which physicians mistake for heart disease, and when the stomach is in this condition it is coated with a mucus or a lime. The rough fibrous portions of the stomach, similar to what we see in tripe, is what throws out the gastric juice, and when the stomach gets a thick coat of slime in it, it prevents the gastric juice from flowing and digestion ceases. Schenck's seaweed tonic dissolves this mucus or slime, and restores the stomach to its natural condition.
Schenck's Mandrake Pills are also required to carry off this morbid matter. Two-thirds of the cases of Consumption are caused from this diseased state of the stomach; the liver becoming torpid, it ceases to throw out bile, and in a short time the whole system is deranged. The mucous membrane of the bronchial tubes sympathises with the other organs, and before the patient is aware of it, he or she has Bronchial or Pulmonary Consumption.
Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup cannot act freely thro' the blood when the system is in this locked-up condition, without the aid of the Sea Weed Tonic and Mandrake Pills. The Liver has all of the venous blood to strain, and when it gets in a morbid condition, blood and bile run through the system mixed, and the whole body becomes so low, and the blood so thick it can hardly run through the veins. In a majority of cases hemorrhages occur from the thick condition of the blood. The Mandrake Pills act on the Liver similar to calomel, or they do what that does—it unlocks the gall bladders, starts the bile, and the blood begins to circulate naturally through the veins, and the hemorrhages cease. If, when persons are attacked with hemorrhage, they would first take a good purgative, something that would act on the liver, they would soon be relieved from bleeding from the lungs, and it is the only way, for astringents are only temporary, and irritate the bronchial tubes, and lay the groundwork for consumption.
DR. SCHENCK will be professionally at his rooms every week, 33 Bond street, New York, and 35 Hanover street, Boston, from 9 A. M. until 3 P. M. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with the Respirometer the charge is $5.
His medicines are for sale by all druggists and dealers. Also a full supply at all times at his rooms.
Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 the half dozen. Mandrake Pills 25 cents per box.

SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILL.
A Certain Cure for Diseased Liver and the most Dangerous Maladies which are caused by a morbid condition of that organ.
To give the public a clear understanding of the mode in which SCHENCK'S Mandrake Pills produce those wonderful effects which are attested by thousands of credible witnesses, we present a brief DESCRIPTION OF THE HUMAN LIVER and its functions, which will make the operation of this popular medicine perceptible to every man of understanding.
The liver is supplied with blood vessels, nerves and absorbents. One of the obvious uses to be exerted and prepare the bile. It likewise filters the blood and separates that fluid from all impurities. If or indispensable necessary to health is the proper performance of this function! If the liver is diseased, it cannot purify the blood, and if that is set at back through the lungs, brain and other parts in a morbid condition, it must cause jaundice, biliousness, obstruction of the kidneys, gravel, and many other complaints more or less painful and dangerous, but the least of them quite enough to make a man sick and uncomfortable, and unfit for the performance of any of the duties of life. This unhealthy state of the system very often ends in pulmonary consumption.
The circulation of the blood is conducted in this manner—The heart sends a the vital current down through the arteries; it passes through the body, taking up all impurities in its progress: then the stream of blood flows back ward through the veins, and passes to the liver to be purified. It is impossible to cure consumption, scrofula, or scarcely any other kind of ulceration i hile that important organ, the liver, is diseased. It is for that reason that "regular physicians" rarely cure consumption. They usually begin their treatment with the use of some cooling medicine, the basis of which is morphia or opium in some shape, which locks up the liver instead of relaxing the secretions, giving a tone to the stomach and producing a healthy flow of bile.
Dr. Schenck's
Pulmonic Syrup, Seaweed Tonic, and Mandrake Pills, will strengthen the system, purify the blood, and rid you and heal ulcers on the lungs.
A volume would be required, to give a brief account of the remarkable cures performed by Dr. Schenck's medicines, viz: Pulmonic Syrup, Seaweed Tonic, and Mandrake Pills—all of which are accompanied by full directions for the use of them.
DR. SCHENCK will be professionally at his rooms every week 33 Bond street, New York, and 35 Hanover street, Boston, from 9 A. M. until 3 P. M. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with the Respirometer, the charge is five (5) dollars. His medicines are for sale by all druggists and dealers. Also a full supply at all times at his rooms. Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic, each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 the half dozen. Mandrake Pills 25 cents per box.

COUNTERFEIT—FIRST NATIONAL BANK NOTES.
20s, a close imitation of the genuine notes, and well calculated to deceive. The back of the bill is rather coarse. The plate liable to be altered to any of the National banks.
HIGHLAND NATIONAL BANK OF NEWBURG, N. Y.
10s, imitation—figure of liberty on an eagle on right end, Frank I and Dr Ten Eyck's signatures are engraved in the counterfeit, and in the genuine they are written. The lightning, grasped by the hand of Liberty, is barely perceptible in the genuine. While in the counterfeit it is made to bring out the arms on a dark, coarse back-ground, which in the genuine is light. On the back of the note the followers of DeSoto appear as if engaged in a terrible battle, and appear mixed up, while in the fore ground, that which is designed for a priest, bears the exact image of a monkey.
UNITED STATES COUPOND INTEREST NOTES.
50s, imitation; viz, (on left end) female erect, holding sword in left hand, her right hand resting on Bible—male bust, 50 on dis above on right end. Well done and likely to deceive good judges.
100s, counterfeits are in circulation. A fac-simile of the genuine bill, but the engraving is not so fine. They are dated May 11th, 1865; Letter B. The counterfeit is 100 on the shoulder of the bust rather than in the genuine. Be careful and examine well all before taking them, as they have deceived some of our best judges.
UNITED STATES LEGAL TENDER NOTES.
10s, imitation—the portrait of Lincoln on the left end is very dark, and the eyes poor, while the toes of the female on the right end can scarcely be seen, in the genuine they are very distinct. Look out for them.
20s, imitations—poorly done; engraving coarse, and the bills look blurred. The green ink used is lighter than the genuine. The dies are 20s are one-eighth of an inch larger than the genuine
100s, imitated. Upper left, spread eagle sitting on a rock. The general appearance of the bill is good. The wings of the eagle are coarse and cloudy streaky. The imprint of the American Bank Note Company at the top is larger than on the genuine. On the right end of the bill the figure 100 in the circles are inverted thus: "100." In the genuine the 100 in the circles on the left end read thus: "001;" in the counterfeit they are thus "100." The paper is also heavier.
NATIONAL BANKS.
1s, altered to 10s—viz. of 1s, two female figures with hands clasped, one pointing upwards. 10s having figure of Franklin drawing electricity from the clouds: and on the back of the bill is DeSoto discovering the Mississippi. On back of 1s, is the Landing of the Pilgrims. Well done.
50s, altered from 5s; the 5s have vigs, on each end—and landing of Columbus on back. Look out for this alteration.

JUNE PICTURES.

June's glorious sun unclouded shines,
And not a bad unopened flower:
The roses laugh, and bold their wines
The golden-petaled eglantines
Tangle their fragrant favors.

The operatic blackbird sings
His love-song in the rainy meadows,
And orioles on flashing wing
Dart through the Orchard openings,
And flash into the shadows.

In groups beneath the pasture trees,
Full-fed cows lie drowsing;
The locust grove's alive with bees,
With song like that of summer seas,
Among the blooms carousing.

Young quail are whistling in the brake
Each day their faltering notes grow firmer,
The kingbirds cheerful music make,
And down the woodland echoes wake
With soft and amorous murmur.

Sweet is the month's delicious day,
That crowns the world with chaplets floral,
Bids the old Miles rampant,
And makes a perfumed atmosphere
With living music choral.

Leave your dull haunts, ye human moles,
Blindly for special treasures mining;
By verdurous paths seek brighter goals,
And weave around your jaded souls
The garlands June is twining.

DRONES OF NEW YORK. The extremes of wealth and poverty, hardship and ease, industry and idleness, meet together in the strange admixture which constitutes the population of New York. Every shade and condition of society, every grade in the social scale, is found among the people of this cosmopolitan city. Strangers who visit New York are always astonished by the great bustle and activity that is everywhere apparent. Everybody seems to be alive with business, and the mark of industry appears on every hand. It is true that no city excels, and probably none equals New York in respect to business activity and enterprise; but it must nevertheless be admitted that it excels in drones and idlers as well as in workers. It would be interesting to know what proportion of drones there is in the population of New York, but it certainly must be large. Aside from the thieves, gamblers, and others of the worst class, there are thousands of men who do nothing but eat and drink, consuming what others produce, adding nothing to the general wealth, and giving the world no cause to thank them, except when they leave it. Of all classes in society this is the most contemptible. It matters not how favorably a man may be circumstanced in respect to wealth, he should do something toward paying the debt which every human being owes to society. Nature never designed that any man should pass his life in aimless idleness. There is an obligation resting upon every one to pay his way through the world by producing as much as he consumes, either directly or indirectly; and he who fails to balance the account goes out of the world a debtor. It matters not that a man is born to fortune. Society demands that every man shall stand upon his own merits. Because the elder Smith amassed wealth in the soap-boiling line, it does not follow that young Smith is absolved from all obligations as a producing member of society. But there is another and a far worse class of drones—those who have no means of their own, and who depend upon the industry or liberality of others for support. These pleasant, sunny afternoons one may see hundreds of drones on Broadway, elegantly attired, exhibiting themselves like a collection of wax figures. Of course all are not of this class who appear, well dressed, on Broadway; but the proportion is large. It would surprise one to learn in what way, many of these idlers are supported. Some of them are maintained by rich relatives; others by hard working parents; and a great many of them (would you think it?) by prostitutes. Many of these who dress in the height of fashion, sporting costly diamond pins and having every outward appearance of wealth, are nothing but pimps, whose money comes from the denizens of Greene and Mercer streets, with whom they are favorites. There are some silly people, of the shoddy aristocracy class, who turn up their noses at labor, as if there were something disreputable about it. The truth is that no man is respectable who does not labor, either physically or mentally. But idleness is not only disreputable but disreputable. The drone's true position in the social scale is immeasurably below that of the hod-carrier. He who does nothing to increase the world's store of wealth is a clog upon the wheels of progress, a drawback to public advancement, a detriment and a nuisance to society.—[Sun.

THE LITTLE BROWN BIRD. As I was retiring from the dinner-table of a friend in the country, one bright summer day last autumn, as I cast my eye through the bow-window, my attention was attracted by a little brown bird, sitting near a mirror, which the coachman had brought from the city that morning and left leaning against the wing of the house. A group of friends and children immediately gathered around to look at birdie and with one voice we said it had received an injury, and could not fly; but the next moment we found ourselves mistaken, for it took wing, and was off. Very soon, however, I returned, taking its position before the mirror; and my its movements we soon discovered that it was watching its own reflection in the glass—mistaking it for a foe. It gazed a moment, moved its head towards one side, then towards the other; raised its feathers, stepped back a little—the reflection, of course, making the same defiant movements and then with all its power, rushed forward to strike its foe. The force with which it struck the mirror, of course, sent it backward. Recovering its position, it would resume the same and go through the same belligerent movements till exhausted. Then it would fly away for two or three minutes. On returning, it would repeat the same till again exhausted, but with little variation. Sometimes, before flying away to recruit, it would step behind the glass, as if looking for its foes there. The bird was left undisturbed by the family, though it was closely watched till sunset. I do not think it was absent five minutes at any one time.

The next morning, when the family assembled in the dining-room, the first inquiry was for the bird. The mirror having been left in its position, we found the bird at his post apparently with the motto in his mind, 'Never give up.' The same defiant spirit, the same belligerent evolutions, were acted out with but a few minutes recess, till late in the afternoon, when the mirror was removed.

As I watched the little bird's movements, and saw its persistent, unforgiving spirit, I thought how much this is like the spirit and conduct of too many human beings, both of large and smaller growth. How many, like birdie, are fighting shadows or imaginary enemies; how many think they have defeated an enemy, when, if like the bird, they roll look behind that which caused the shadow, they will find that there was no enemy to defeat!—[Christian Treasury.

RUSSIAN RAILROAD TRAVELING. A correspondent of the London Times writing from Moscow, says:

'The distances travelers have to perform in this country are so immense, and the weather is frequently so severe, that the idea of giving a sort of domestic arrangement to the cars naturally occurred to a people laboring under such disadvantages. Russian railway carriages are little houses on wheels. In the first and partly in the second class, their interior may be described as a saloon, with all the necessaries and some of the elegances of such an apartment. It is furnished with looking glasses, heated by porcelain stoves and lit by lamps and candles. Along the sides soft divans are ranged; the middle is occupied by a mahogany table, and double windows, while red curtains excludes not only the rude touch of the Russian air, but also the gaze of the winter sky. The company, at a large about, chatting, reading, or playing cards, chess and dominoes. The cold is perfectly enough, smiling night and day, the thermometer sometimes to be seen at 30 degrees Reaumur. By a simple contrivance the divans are made into beds, and the tables are taken by the off-sides, and the carriages converted into a well-furnished bedroom. The cars are heated by stoves, and the windows are too small to admit of ventilation. In England first class carriages are too small for beds, and too narrow for comfort. Here, in Russia, they are large and well ventilated. The cars are made to hold six persons, and the divans are made into beds, and the tables are taken off
